

masterplan and sculpture park for Goodwood's Art Foundation in West Sussex and a scheme for the Beth Chatto Gardens and Nursery in Essex.

020-7928 3300; www.danpearsonstudio.com

Emily Erlam Studio

New entry: see page 118

Harris Bugg Studio

Charlotte Harris and Hugo Bugg run an award-winning practice known for intelligent and imaginative transformations of gardens at country estates, often in areas requiring careful conservation considerations, such as a 100-acre estate in the Chilterns with a landscape dating back to Tudor times ('Cool, calm and collected', August 9, 2023). The studio is currently at work on a major restoration project for the Barbican Conservatory, London EC2, with its dramatic Brutalist structure and abundant planting.

01392 927172; www.harrisbugg.com

I & J Bannerman

Isabel and Julian Bannerman have been designing gardens and garden buildings together since 1983, earning a reputation for theatrical and romantic designs. They have designed gardens at Highgrove in Gloucestershire and were granted a Royal Warrant of Appointment to The King in May 2024. Other projects include the imaginatively designed garden at Seend Manor in Wiltshire ('The world on the doorstep', October 2, 2024), a new landscape and walled gardens around a house in Oxfordshire and gardens for Sting and Trudie Styler in Wiltshire and Italy.

www.bannermandesign.com

James Alexander-Sinclair

Based in Oxfordshire, James Alexander-Sinclair is a leading figure in the world of garden design, blending charisma with talent and deep knowledge. He is an RHS vice-president, RHS Gardens judge, television presenter, writer, lecturer and head of his own garden-design practice specialising in medium to large country gardens, including Coates Barn in the Cotswolds, which showcases his creative approach ('Where the north wind doth blow', September 18, 2024).

07515 336356;

www.jamesalexandersinclair.com

Jane Brown

Describing her approach as a blend of the traditional and modern to create timeless gardens, Jane Brown works carefully to create bespoke designs, many of which are country

A design by Robert Myers, who specialises in contemporary gardens in historic sites gardens in historical settings. Known for naturalistic and free-flowing planting, considered structures and generous hard landscaping, Miss Brown works across London and the South-East. Current projects include a masterplan for the gardens and grounds of a listed farmhouse in west Berkshire, including a lake with parkland planting, terraces, orchard and walled vegetable garden.

07894 427114; www.janebrown.co.uk

Jinny Blom Studio

Accomplished landscape designer, plantswoman and author Jinny Blom is known for her artistic approach to garden design, in styles that can be formal or informal, but which are always appropriate to the site and always magical. Her most recent book, What Makes a Garden (Quarto), offers a revealing insight into her passion for design, winning the Garden Media Guild Gardening Book of the Year award 2024.

020-3950 2899; www.jinnyblom.com

Jo Thompson Landscape & Garden Design

Designer, writer and speaker Jo Thompson is admired for her romantic designs and painterly planting, undertaking public and private gardens including a quiet haven created for author Justine Picardie in Norfolk →